

Zen Dentistry

DENTISTRY REDEFINED

“What is the true nature of a cavity?” Sounds more like

Zen than dentistry, but truthfully, it’s a question dentists have struggled with since the beginning of dental history...until now.

The diagnosis of tooth decay has historically been subjective and interpretive, and the tools available to aid in the diagnosis have changed little in the past century.

Recognizing this, we at the Center for Advanced Dentistry have added a true 21st Century technology called DIAGNODENT® to our practice. Using a small hand-held laser to scan the surfaces of the teeth, our ability to accurately diagnose tooth decay is better than ever before. Accurate and early diagnosis means minimally invasive treatment, fewer x-rays and far less chance of over-treatment or under-treatment.

We believe so strongly in this technology that we have made DIAGNODENT a part of every patient examination at no extra cost.
